

APR Discrepancy Checks

Reporting Period (Batch Year) 2002 change

This report examines your data for several types of discrepancies that you should review before submitting your Annual Performance Report

I. Served but not enrolled

The DOE states that no student shall be considered served unless he/she is enrolled at the grantee institution. However, it is fairly common for institutions to give services to a student even though they are not enrolled. For example, after leaving the grantee institution, a student may return to get transfer advising. Per the DOE, grantee institutions are not prohibited from advising this student ("once or twice"), but are not allowed to consider this student served. Another common example are students who enter the program before the semester in which they are enrolled. For example, in the course of registering for the Fall, a student may sign up for TRIO services in the Summer. Per the DOE, contacts for these students should be considered as Fall contacts

II. Students with Missing Data

These are students who should show up for Section 5, but do not have an entry for the reporting period in the College Enrollment tab (tbl_StudentAnnual). These students will not have complete data in Section 5 unless they have an entry in the College Enrollment tab. Note: students in the previous check (Served but not enrolled) may not show up in this check. Those errors should be corrected first
